POSTMASTER NAMED.

J. A. YOCKEY HAS BEEN SELECTED TO LICK STAMPS AT PLYMOUTH.

As Prophesied by the Independent a Few Days Ago Congressman Brick Has Appointed Mr. Yockey to Succeed W. H. Conger as Postmaster—Other Candidates Are Much Disappointed.

The Independent a few days ago made the prophecy that J. A. Yockey would be the successful aspirant for the postoffice. Telegrams Wednesday to interested parties in Plymouth to the effect that Mr. Yockey will be recommended by Congressman Brick simply settles what to the Independent has been a foregone conclusion for some time. Chairman Shunk received this short telegram at 1:45 p. m. Wednesday:

"Will recommend J. A. Yockey for the postoffice at Plymouth today."

"A. L. BRICK."

Mr. Conger also received this telegram:

"W. H. Conger, Plymouth, Ind.:

"Have recommended J. A. Yockey for postmaster at Plymouth."

"A. L. BRICK."

It is understood that each of the other candidates received similar telegrams. Mr. Simons was the first of the defeated candidates to reach the postoffice to congratulate Mr. Yockey, but that gentleman was out and he left his card. Mr. Conger had just read his telegram and it was evident that he keenly felt the disappointment.

Clarence Slater went to South Bend Tuesday and when he returned he told several friends that he learned enough to know that he was not to be the postmaster. He went home without waiting for his telegram.

Wm. Hendricks, who thought he had a pull because he runs the Republican, has discovered that his standard of journalism is not appreciated even by the republicans and he feels the rebuke perhaps more than any other candidate could. It has for all time, by both parties, been customary to reward the editors of party organs with the postoffice. If there is any one office that an editor is entitled to, it is the postoffice. Congressman Brick has already recognized various editors in the district, but his refusal to recognize the Plymouth editor simply means that he discounts the republican organ of Marshall county as conducted by the present publisher. Hendricks certainly has ample reason to feel down-hearted, as this turning down is an announcement to the republicans and democrats of this county that the Republican and Evening News are not in favor with the congressman and the county republican machine.

The appointment of Yockey is also a victory for Chairman Shunk and the young republicans over Judge Hess and the old-timers.

It will be remembered that Judge Hess in his interview gave it out that Shunk would find out that there are others with greater influence than he possesses, at the same time intimating that he (Hess) and others would land Mr. Conger. The judge guessed wrong, that's all. From the day that the judge gave out his interview, Chairman Shunk got down to work, determining to show the judge and the old-timers that he is more consequential than they have reckoned. The appointment of Yockey tells the whole story of this Shunk and Hess fight. Shunk and his machine simply outgeneraled the old-timers.

The people of Plymouth and vicinity have been well satisfied with Mr. Conger and all will regret his displacement. Yet Mr. Yockey is a man of unimpeachable character, and he knows the office perfectly. So far as the public is concerned there is no question but the office will be conducted to the satisfaction of all.

Death of Mrs. Daniel Deeds.

Mrs. Daniel Deeds, mother of Dr. H. A. Deeds of this city, passed away Monday morning at 11:30 at her home in Warsaw. The deceased came to Kosciusko county in 1854 and since 1859 she, along with her now bereaved husband, Daniel Deeds, has been a resident of Warsaw. Mrs. Deeds had a large circle of acquaintances among the older settlers of the town, among all of whom she was highly esteemed. She was a kind neighbor, an affectionate wife and mother and has known the vicissitudes and privations of a pioneer's life. She was in the seventy-fifth year of her age and leaves a husband and two children—Mrs. James Peterson, of Warsaw, and Dr. H. A. Deeds, of Plymouth, to mourn her loss.

Many Want Novelty Works.

David Snyder informs the Independent that he is very sanguine regarding the proposed sale of the Novelty works. He has been informed by various institutions that representatives will be here May 22 to bid on the plant. The representative of one of the best-known houses in Chicago will be here to inspect the plant this week. If this house should get the plant there will be additional buildings put up and doubtless 300 or 400 people employed. Mr. Snyder thinks that Plymouth is certain to be on the up grade within a short time.

Council Proceedings.

In pursuance of a special call issued by Mayor Jones, the city council met in special session Monday at 7:30 p. m. The purpose of the meeting was to decide whether the city would undertake the laying of the new water mains or whether the same would be let by contract.

The city civil engineer and the water works superintendent were ordered to prepare plans and specifications for the proposed work and report the same to the council for their consideration and approval at the next regular session next Monday night, at which time the council will decide the matter.

It is generally believed that the pipes should be set at a depth of five feet.

Ice Cream Social.

Tuesday, Plymouth Grove, No. 6 of the Woodman Circle, gave an ice cream supper and a little social time in Kuhn's hall. And although the weather was not just the right temperature for ice cream they had their usual good attendance, which brought something over $17, as well as a very enjoyable time for old and young. The music was furnished by the Miller orchestra and was all that could be desired, and while the crowd dispersed, they expressed a strong desire to come again, and congratulated the Woodman Circle as being all right.

Culver Election.

The following is the official returns from the Culver town election as received Wednesday by the county clerk:

For clerk, Geo. W. Voreis, democrat; for treasurer, Wm. S. Easterday, republican; for marshal, Samuel G. Burwell, republican; for trustee, First ward, tie vote; for trustee, second ward, Elijah Geiselman, democrat; for trustee, Third ward, Samuel E. Medbourn, republican.

The tie between David O. Young, republican, and Edward Hayes, democrat, will be decided today.

Another Postmaster Named.

Congressman A. L. Brick has announced the appointment of George Cart as postmaster at New Paris, Elkhart county. Mr. Cart is one of the leading citizens of that town and a veteran of the Civil war.

In all Congressman Brick has 132 postoffices in his district. He expects to make the appointment in Plymouth within a few days and that in Elkhart, some time this week.—South Bend Tribune.

CUT THE MAYOR'S SALARY.

Logansport Council Adopts a New Tack to Oust McKee.

As further inducement to Mayor McKee, of Logansport, to resign, the members of the common council cut his salary from $1,200 to $840, applying the difference to salaries of other officials in the city's service. Mayor McKee presided over the meeting and referred to the case in which Mayor (Golding's) salary as mayor of Marion, Ind., was cut and then again as promptly raised. The six republican members of the council voted for the cut in McKee's salary, while the democratic members stood by McKee, who is a republican. The latter's resignation was demanded at a recent meeting, intoxication being alleged but the mayor refused to quit.

New Game Law.

A law passed by the last legislature for the better protection of game is much more stringent than any previous legislation on the subject. The new law, which will be in force within a week or two, makes the period from January 1 to the 10th of November a closed season against shooting or hunting quails or prairie chickens, with a penalty of fine and imprisonment for every bird shot during that period. There is also a penalty of fine and imprisonment for selling or offering for sale such birds during the period named, whether the same were killed in this state or elsewhere. The killing of wild ducks and other waterfowl is prohibited from the 15th of April to the 1st of September and from the 1st of October to the 10th of November, except that a resident of Indiana may hunt and kill such waterfowl from the 1st of October to the 10th of November if he has a permit to do so from the commissioner of fisheries and game, such permit to be issued to residents free of charge. Non-residents of the state are not permitted to hunt or kill wild animals or game birds within the state at any time without a license, the cost of which is $25, and even with such license they may only kill birds during the open season and not to exceed a certain number per day. The shooting of a wild dove any time between the first of January and the 15th of August or between the 1st of October and the 10th of November is made a misdemeanor, punishable by fine and imprisonment. The following provisions of the law are of general interest:

Section 8. Whoever hunts with dog or dogs, or whoever hunts or shoots with any kind of firearms, upon any inclosed land without first securing the written consent of the owner or tenant thereof shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than $10 nor more than $25.

Section 9. Whoever hunts or shoots song birds or any species of game with any kind of fire arms on the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not less than $10 nor any more than $50. Under these provisions the owner of land is not obliged to post it against hunters, but the latter must obtain a permit before entering upon it, and Sunday hunting is prohibited altogether.

Congressman Brick's Troubles.

Here is Congressman Brick's position. Conger, now in possession of the postoffice, who has executed the duties faithfully and to the satisfaction of the public, asked reappointment. He was endorsed by more than a majority of the people of this vicinity.

Win Simons, an old personal friend of the congressman and also of Senator Fairbanks, wanted the postoffice. In fact, it is customary for the congressman when he visits Plymouth to make the Simon's home his headquarters. Of course he disliked to turn down so close a friend and in fact one who has in the past rendered him some services that he cannot but thoroughly appreciate.

Mr. Yockey was urged and backed by Chairman Shunk and the county organization and it would have been poor politics for the congressman to turn against the machine. He wanted to humor Shunk and at the same time he feared the offense that such an appointment will give the Judge Hess faction.

Mr. Slater and Mr. Bonham were each delegates to the convention when Mr. Brick received his first nomination. Each of these candidates were Brick men and labored hard for him in the convention at a time when assistance of this kind was of the substantial stuff. He wanted to reward these friends who stood by him so nobly and made it possible for him to become a congressman.

Hendricks had no particular claim upon the Congressman except that he runs the party organ here. While he would under ordinary circumstances like to encourage the aspirations of the newspaper publisher, there are many reasons why he could not afford to have Hendricks as his spokesman here.

Verily, the congressman had a "hot-to-mollie" on his hand.

Notice to Readers.

The fourth and fifth pages of this paper were printed a few hours before news came of the appointment of Mr. Yockey to the postoffice and in consequence there are a couple of articles relative to the postoffice scramble on these pages that would have been omitted had news of the appointment come two hours sooner.

Jacob Long was born in Germany May 6, 1818, died April 29, 1901, aged 82 years, 11 months and 13 days. He was married to Rebecca Straly in Germany in 1846. To this union were born eight children, two sons and six daughters. Four were born in Germany and four in America, of whom all survive except one daughter who died in infancy.

The deceased removed to America, Columbus, O., in 1858. From Ohio to Miami county, Indiana, 1861. From Miami county to Marshall county, Bourbon township, 1865, where he resided until his death, being a resident of Marshall county thirty-seven years. He united with the German Lutheran church at an early age in which faith he continued until his death. He was a kind father and a good neighbor.

A wife, seven children, twenty-three grandchildren, ten great-grandchildren and many friends mourn his loss. Peace to his memory.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. E. Breunton and Rev. J. H. Sellers at Mt. Pleasant church, interment in the church cemetery.

Illegal to Fish Now.

An exchange says: There are a great many people who are laboring under the delusion that the law permits them to fish during the month of May in the running streams of the state. Such is not the case. Under the law that was passed by the last legislature a man may legally angle in the streams, but the old law does not permit it during the month of May, and as the new law does not go into effect until after the governor's proclamation, people who fish this month are liable to fines.
